DRESS GOODS

Of All Desirable or Seasonable Fabrics—At Prices which Reduce "The Cost of Dressing" to a Reasonable Basis!

YOU WANT the Correct Fabrics for the Season, and the Newest and Most Attractive of the correct fabrics. They are here.

YOU WANT your Expense for Dress Fabrics and Material reduced to a minimum. This Store is here and is managed chiefly to that end, chiefly to serve you and help you in keeping your expenses down.

THIS STORE would be a failure if it offered you out-of-date Dress Goods. Yet that would be no more certain an indication of store failure than would be the fixing of prices too high. High prices are as great an offence as out-of-date goods. At least that is what we think at this store.

Address on Socialism

An interesting address was given in the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon by Mr. W. E. Hardenburg of the A.C.R. staff, his subject being "What is Socialism?" Some of its aims and claims. "Rev. R. Pearson was in the chair, and a very large number were present, including Mayor Welliver. Mr. Hardenburg started by removing a prevailing misconception—that Socialism is opposed to religion—by several citations from the Scriptures and the early Christian writers. Then he went on to analyse the present system with the object of showing that the present day conditions are opposed to the progress of Christ's teachings. Among the points touched on were such evils as militarism and war, the social evil, child labor, poverty, unemployment, slums, etc. These, he endeavored to show, are the inevitable results of a system whereby all the public necessities were owned by one small and useless class—the capitalist class. He then went on to show that modern wage earners are practically slaves and that their interests are diametrically opposed to the interests of the capitalists. Next, by various illustrations, he called attention to the wastefulness, absurdity and cruelty of the capitalist system, and endeavored to show that it was due to this system alone that the previously mentioned evils exist. He made the statement that Socialism is the next step toward a revolution, and that once the Social Commonwealth was in existence all classes would disappear, and with them the many evils that afflict the Western world today. Several questions were asked, but there was not time for a lengthy debate, so another meeting was arranged for February 18th, when a discussion on the subject will take place.

New Townsites on C.N.R. Lines

Altogether the C.N.R. will open some sixty towns on three lines this year. Among those in our own district are: On the Brazeau branch, running from a junction of the Vegreville-Calgary branch to Rocky Mountain House, it has been decided to open up six other new towns, two of them will be designated as Sylvan Lake and Rocky Mountain House. TWO ON LIVE TO CALGARY. Two will be established on the Edmonton and Calgary line. Five will be located on Calgary-Lethbridge line. Two will be located on the line running from Medicine Hat to the international boundary, four on the Maryfield-Lethbridge extension west of Radville; five on the line between Henry and Swift Current.

Leslieville

The Dominion Government surveyors are busy surveying the townsite here just south of McKinnon Bros. store and post office. Leslieville is the main point west of Red Deer, and our slogan is "Watch Leslieville Grow."

M. S. Evans & Sons, who live just 2 1/2 miles north-east of Leslieville, held a successful auction sale on Tuesday, 6th February. G. N. Welsh was auctioneer.

Edmonton and Strathcona Are Now One

Without formality but with all favorable circumstances smiling on the occasion, the union of Edmonton and Strathcona became a reality Feb. 1, with the passing at midnight of the independent city on the south bank a few bells rang out in memory of the departed and in welcome to the new era. Other than this there was little demonstration and the order of things on both banks goes along in its usual channel, except in the civic offices on First Ave. North, where the various departments are either in the midst of altered conditions or are awaiting such changes as may be forthcoming from the future administration.

The late council put in a strenuous time Wednesday in the task of clearing the municipal slate of the accumulation of matters which required attention before the elected representatives went out of office. The adjourned meeting during the evening permitted most of the routine work being finally disposed of, but the mayor was obliged to assist some of the department officers up to the stroke of midnight in settling the multitude of matters which awaited sanction.

One of the outstanding and admirable features of the new estate is understanding on both sides of the river that the union is not an annexation of either center to the other. Both sides of the river are now brought together by mutual consent and by an act of amalgamation which it is hoped will never prove otherwise than an actual joining of forces for the upbuilding of a city far greater than would be possible for either as separate municipalities. For this month there will exist no council on either side of the valley, the business of administration being in the hands of the city commissioners and the various departments' heads.

Finance Minister Working on Tariff

Hon. W. T. White Taking Great Interest in Bill Creating New Commission

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Hon. W. T. White is devoting a great deal of attention to the bill for appointment of a tariff commission. It was at first thought that Hon. George E. Foster would take charge of the measure, but as all the work of the commission, its findings and its investigations, deal directly with the tariff, it was decided that the minister of finance should have control. The bill will be up in the house Wednesday, and until it is out of the way, the budget will not be brought down. Upon the length of the debate on the tariff commission bill and the budget will depend whether he would adjourn the middle of March, as was anticipated. In the Liberal camp, all does not go well. Sir Wilfrid Laurier wished last September to go to California, but was prevented by the party doling.

He has now decided to go to California for his health, and will do so at the earliest opportunity.

Hockey

Penhold played the High School a return game on Thursday night last, and it was a fast and furious game throughout, the locals having slightly the better team. The game started fast, and the puck was hurried up and down the ice, though the locals had the best of it, and were first to score. Then a short stop was called to fix the goal net and play resumed. Red Deer soon put in two more counters with hard work, and then P. Johnson made an individual rush and, passing everyone, scored for Penhold. A second time was up Penhold got another but it was not allowed.

After the game, which had lasted a little before half, again started up fast, and was, rougher than before, though not very dirty. The locals were still strong, however, and kept the puck in Penhold territory, and J. Krause and L. White each scored one in this half. McKenzie got one more for Penhold, and the score 5-2 in favor of the High School. Red Deer showed to more advantage on the larger rink. The teams were the same as at Penhold the Saturday before, except that Markle took Green's place on the locals, and a stronger man took Thompson's place on the Penhold team. J. Gurril refereed satisfactorily.

Red Deer Juniors took a trip to Olds on Saturday evening and were defeated 3-2 by the team of that place.

On Monday, Jan. 29th, a very exciting game of hockey took place between Toled and Wetaskiwin at Wetaskiwin rink, Wetaskiwin winning by a score of 5 to 4.

The Markets

All over the Dominion there is a call for more really good beef. Prices are always advanced a bit for good stuff nowadays, and there is a growing fear that there will not be enough first quality to go around. The future market is strong.

LIVE STOCK.

"When Dr. Rutherford, Veterinary-General, talks about live stock, we generally find that it pays to listen to what he has to tell us, and what we here record is well worth your attention. We quote Dr. Rutherford: "The latest figures in my possession point to a very serious falling off in beef production in the prairie, which situation is made more grave by the almost phenomenal increase in consumption of meat that has taken place in this country within the past few years. Until recently it appeared as if Canada would always have an abundant supply of live stock of all kinds, not only for home use but for export as well." Dr. Rutherford then said that in view of the conditions bringing about this increased consumption, the general production of live stock, instead of showing the distinct advance which might well be expected, appears to have scarcely maintained a normal rate of increase. As a consequence, the Canadian export trade in live stock is decreasing in volume, and bids fair to shortly altogether disappear. Imports of meat are increasing from day to day from the States and Argentine Republic. Recently there has sprung up an import trade in American sheep and lambs, and very considerable shipments have been made from Buffalo and Chicago to Toronto and Hamilton.

That is what Dr. Rutherford says, and no one is better situated to know. What are we going to do about it? Are we going to impoverish our soils by growing all wheat? Are we going to sell our live stock business to the first bidder, or are we going to get busy and raise more cattle? That is the question.

Good butcher cattle are quoted 6c at Winnipeg, 5.50 at Calgary, and 5c was offered at Red Deer last week with no takers. 6c is talked of as the price for April delivery, and 6.50 for May, while some of the farmers are looking for 7c.

Hogs are a good proposition also, and are likely to remain high, being worth 8c at Calgary, 7c at Edmonton, 7.50 at Winnipeg. The Co-operative shipped a car from here and a car from Innisfail last week at 7.60. Oats are picking up some also. A demand from the east has arisen and quite a few are being shipped there when cars can be had.

Barley is also being inquired for and prices are good.

Timothy hay is a drug in this market at present, and the only hope is through railway construction next summer when it may all be required here. There is no sale for it at the coast, choice timothy being quoted at 12c at New Westminster, which puts it below what it can be supplied for here.

HON. PEARSON DEAD

Proprietor of the Halifax Chronicle Succumbs After Brief Illness

Halifax, Jan. 31.—For two months Hon. B. F. Pearson has lain on a bed from which his family and most of his friends knew he would never rise again. He died at 9.30 tonight, a victim of kidney trouble.

Mr. Pearson was the proprietor of the Halifax Chronicle, but he was even better known as a great industrial promoter and as a public-spirited citizen. Had he lived until next April he would have been 57 years old. He was born in Colchester, the son of F. M. Pearson, twice a member of the Dominion House of Commons, and the great-grandson of Col. Pearson, a South Carolina United Empire Loyalist. Hon. B. F. Pearson entered provincial politics in 1901, as member for Colchester, and at the time of his defeat last year was a member of the provincial government.

It was as a promoter of great industrial and traction concerns that he was best known. It was he who promoted the Dominion Coal Co., when he was 49 years old, and six years later with H. M. Whitney, of Boston, and others he put through the Dominion Steel and Wire Co., one of other big companies were organized by him.

Either Calgary or Cowley to Get New Ogilvie Mill to Be Built This Year

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—Cowley or Calgary, Alberta, will get the new Ogilvie mill. This was given out at the company's office today by a minor official. Manager Black, in a long interview, failed to indicate the site.

It is unreasonable to expect the railways to move the whole of the past season's crop in Western Canada in a couple of months, and it is laying on them an impossible task, said W. A. Black, general manager of the Ogilvie mill company, when interviewed this morning on the return of his western trip, during which he has been choosing the location for the new 3,000 barrel Ogilvie mill to be built this summer. "The only solution of the problem is that the farmers must themselves provide storage capacity for, say, two-thirds of their annual crop, and market it gradually. The present system of threshing and attempting to market the crop at the same time is a failure. Threshing glutts the market and drives down prices, and as long as it is attempted there will be congestion and crop shortage and no end of troubles.

"It was thought that after the Russo-Jap war an oriental market of great importance would come into existence, but up to the present the outlook has been disappointing. There has, as yet, been only a very narrow market for low grade flour, and though the trade has increased some this fall on account of famine conditions in parts of China, still the export trade in flour to the Orient is not of great importance.

"Will the further extension of the milling business help things?" he was asked.

"We are building another mill because we can already see a market for our output, but it must be borne in mind that the mill capacity of the west is already very great, and immensely in excess of the demand for home consumption. The Ogilvie company will increase its plant as conditions warrant. This business is to be the first important addition to our plant for some time."

"You have not yet decided on its location."

"I have no announcement to make, and shall not have until a meeting of the directors of the company. It may be some little time before a final decision is reached."

"There is an immense amount of grain in the west yet unthreshed," continued Mr. Black. "This year there was 39,000,000 bushels, and I am doubtful if any of it will be available for milling purposes. Some of it is stacked and some in stock."

"It is hard to get, experienced opinion of how this stuff will come out and whether it will keep."

"Have you hopes of the Hudson Bay road relieving the pressure east and west?"

"I believe in the construction of the road. It will open up a country rich in many resources. It will develop the immensely productive fisheries of the bay, but as a grain route I have my doubts. But, as I said before, if farmers stored their grain and marketed it throughout the year a different and a much healthier complexion would be put on the grain trade. The crops could be easily transported to the consumer, and much better prices would prevail."

Narrow Escape

Wilkie, Sask., Jan. 26.—The Great West Express, No. 51, westbound from Winnipeg to Stratford, had a narrow escape from being thrown into a gap caused by a burning bridge on the C.P.R., eleven miles east of here, last night. Engineer Greene noticed something wrong and managed to stop the train within five feet of the burning bridge, which spans a culvert 60 feet deep. Conductor Bassett walked to Wilkie through a blinding snowstorm to bring relief to the passengers. The train was duly transferred to train No. 52 this morning. Only the close vigilance of the engineer avoided a disaster of the first magnitude. Both engineer and conductor are to be highly congratulated upon their efficient work.

RED DEER BOOSTED ABROAD

Examples of Canada's Growth

(London, England, Standard)

Mr. William Perkins Bull, K.C., of Toronto, is now in England on a brief visit. Readers of the "Standard of Empire" will remember that the firm of Messrs. B. H. Bull and Son, of Brampton, Ontario, of which Mr. W. P. Bull is the head, possesses the largest herd of Jersey cattle under the British flag. Mr. Bull does not confine his activities to one province, however. He is much interested in the town of Red Deer, Alberta, which is, he believes, destined to become an exceedingly important railway junction in the near future. Speaking at a banquet in his honor, given by the Red Deer Board of Trade in November last, Mr. Bull said: "Then one realizes that any given engine can haul more tons of freight from Red Deer to the Pacific coast than the same engine can haul from any other spot east of the Rockies, one understands why it is that the Canadian Northern Railway has been able to secure such a large and important business from Red Deer and the south, the other east and west. They cannot change the contour of the continent, nor take away from you the immense advantage nature has given you in your six-tenths of a per cent. gradient through the Rockies to the coast. I congratulate you that the easiest railway route from the Atlantic to the Pacific between the North and South Poles is via Red Deer."

In the course of a talk with one of our representatives at the Ontario Government Office, Mr. Bull, who is making the Metropole Hotel his headquarters while in London, said, apropos of the letting of a contract by the Dominion government for the construction of a section of a hundred miles of the Hudson Bay Railway, "The governments of Manitoba, Ontario, and the Dominion being all Conservative would now work in unison for the development of the hitherto untouched district stretching from Moose Factory and the Factory towards the West and South."

He went over the district by canoe and portage over twenty years ago before there was any thought of settlement or railway development. The best of the country which he had admirably to mixed farming. Owing to the fact that it is well wooded and intersected by lakes and rivers, it is possibly the best of the whole of Canada, which is the best suited and will be most congenial to the settlers from this country."

Mr. Bull then spoke of his own firm's stock farm at Brampton. "We occupy 700 and about 800 acres," he said. "Our stock travels about 11,000 miles this year, attending the leading exhibitions and shows throughout Canada. We exhibit upwards of a hundred head at the various fairs. We have just shipped sixteen registered Clydesdales from Scotland to the Brampton stock farm. Several of them were prize animals at the leading shows in Great Britain. Recently I made a trip with a party of people, among whom was Mr. Henry Lyle, a large Wiltshire farmer. We visited the international fat stock show at Chicago, and the Ontario winter show, and saw the leading stock breeders in Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta studying the livestock conditions with special reference to beef and mutton industries. As a consequence of that trip, Mr. Lyle is going to establish himself with the 'Red Bull' ranches in Ontario and Southern Alberta. These ranches comprise 13,000 acres, and will be devoted not only to the growing of wheat but to the importation from Great Britain of Clydesdales, Shorthorns, sheep, and generally to the breeding and raising of those classes of pedigree stock suited to the farm conditions of Western Canada."

"There are a number of packing plants in existence in Canada, but the country is not exporting as much meat as it should, or as it will in the future, because its population is increasing so fast that the local production is not increasing as quick as the demand. Toronto, Winnipeg and Calgary are the chief packing centres at present."

"The railway development continues at a greater pace than ever before. Take as an example the town of Red Deer, which has hitherto been served only by the C.P.R. This year the Canadian Northern Railway will have two roads built right through the town, one east and west, to tap the Red Deer coalfields, and the other north and south, competing with the existing Calgary and Edmonton Railways, which is said to be the best paying stretch of 200 miles of railway in the Dominion. The Alberta Central has located its headquarters at Red Deer, and has acquired 250 acres at the south-east corner of the town for the offices and yards. It is at present building east and west from Red Deer, and has its charter extended by the Dominion Government to Hudson Bay."

"The Canadian Pacific is also constructing another line into Red Deer from Langdon. The reason that so much railway construction is centring at Red Deer is that a gradient of six-tenths of one per cent has been located from there to the Pacific coast, and that is the most favorable gradient through the Rockies between Alaska and Mexico."

The Alberta Budget

Premier Sifton was no doubt aware when giving his budget speech of the impossibility of adequate criticism without having the public accounts for the year before one. He gives a statement of the finances of 1911 backed up by a production of the figures for the year 1910. And the speaker ingeniously supports him by pointing out that if Mr. Sifton had only made his budget speech before the close of the year, and the accounts produced would have quite suited the speech. Was ever anything more beautiful than the simplicity of the speaker of the Alberta legislature? Also was ever anything more delightful than the spectacle of a prime minister who makes a budget speech relating to one year and produces public accounts relating to another?

No account seems to be taken of the liability of the province in this A. & G. W. mixup. The premier persists in regarding that as "evening itself up," though just how it will do so he hardly knows. In his estimates of expenditure for 1912, out of a total of ten millions added to the six and a half millions chargeable to capital account, and on the revenue side of the statement he figures $1,640,000 being the alleged amount remaining out of seven million dollars borrowed by the province. It is pleasing to know that out of the ten millions spent by the Alberta government, Calgary is to get $125,000 to apply on a new court house.

The Alberta government runs into large figures for an institution that does not own its own assets, and has managed to roll up bond liabilities to nearly fifteen millions, direct or indirect, in six years. If the particulars of the budget can be extracted they will be found to be very interesting indeed.

fewer Industrial Accidents

Eighty-two fatal and one hundred and twenty-four non-fatal accidents to workpeople were recorded by the Department of Labor during December. This record shows a slight decrease compared with the preceding month, and is much less than in the same month of last year. In November there were 286 accidents, fatal and non-fatal, to individual workmen, and in December, 1910, there were 551 accidents. The chief disasters during the month were the suffocating of three miners at Milesboro, N.C., in a chute of a mine, and an explosion in a powder factory at Departure Bay, Vancouver, B.C., in which three men were killed. There were eleven killed in the railway service, and fourteen in mining. The largest number of non-fatal accidents occurred in the metal trades, in which forty-two were injured. Nine men were killed and thirty-one were injured in the building trades, and unusually high number for the month of December. There were twenty-six non-fatal accidents in the railway service.

The G.T.P. Will Enter Lacombe

(Lacombe Globe.)

The Western Globe learns on good authority that work on the survey of the Grand Trunk Pacific in this vicinity has been commenced before spring. Instead of running north from Mirror, on the Toilede Calgary branch, as was at first decided upon, it is the intention of the company to run westward, striking Lacombe, and then out through Milesville, Bentley and Rimbey to the Brazeau, where they will connect with their line through the Yellowhead Pass.

WHOLESALE PRICES STEADY ON VERY HIGH LEVEL

Wholesale prices throughout Canada during December were on practically the same level as in the preceding month, according to the index number of the Department of Labor. Compared with December, a year ago, a rise of over 8 points is shown. These numbers, it will be understood, are percentages in each case of the average price level prevailing in grains and fodder, dairy products, fish, hides, and metals, there having been decreases in animals and meats, textiles, paints and oils.

The Old Family Coach

A Story of a Modern Cinderella

By MADELINE POWERS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Newton Ashford was driving from Deepford to Little River when he discovered something unusual in the snow covered road. He pulled his horse to a standstill and jumped out of the sutter to examine the strange objects. A pair of small black rubber boots sticking up out of the deep snow by the roadside indicated that a small boy might be at the other extremity. Newton pulled patiently, to discover that there was nothing at the other end but snow. He also found out that his boots were new and were lined with warm red flannel.

"THINKS THERE WILL BE."

When he resumed his ride the boots were tucked under his seat and he was mentally composing an advertisement to hang in the postoffice. "Found a pair of new rubber boots. Owner has same by proving property. Address Newton Ashford, Snow White Country Park, Deepford." Lucinda Melvin read the advertisement in the Little River postoffice, and her smooth white brow clouded. "Oh, dear! Just think of those boots being there, and I can't claim them because, I suppose, the finder, this Newton Ashford, is a gossiping old man, who will be glib about it until Aunt Ann hears about it. Bother!"

The postmaster thrust an inquiring face close to the stamp window. "Bother what, Cinda?" he asked jokingly. "You ain't lost any rubber boots, have you?"

"Of course not," denied Cinda with a guilty conscience. "I'd like our letter, please, Mr. Fox."

"No letters for you folks today," announced Mr. Fox. "How's Aunt Ann?"

"Very well—thank you," said Cinda as she prepared to leave the office. "Ain't got over her queer streak yet, eh?"

"What queer streak?" flashed Cinda. "Seems like I heard Mr. Fox say something about your Aunt Ann was going to get out the old family coach to ride to the Punderman party. I told Eliza I guessed the bull contrivance would come to pieces like the one loss stick in the poem." He chuckled merrily.

"You will have an opportunity of finding out," said Cinda haughtily as she walked out of the office. "Whee-ee-ee!" whistled Mr. Fox merrily. "What a long tail our cat's got! Talk about it! I wonder what Eliza will say when she hears her Cinda ketches me up because I was looking about the old yellow coach her grandfather rode in!"

All Little River heard what Mrs. Fox thought about Cinda Melvin's proud airs.

Most of the villagers had engaged seats in Leterman's long stages, and as the runners would be placed under them there was to be a long sleigh ride all the way to Deepford.

neighbors like us for what we are, not for what our grandmothers were." But Aunt Ann had taken into a tender and ready understanding of the young girl's grandeur and threatened to change her will if Cinda did not alter her democratic ways.

She had resolved to throw down any attempt at ridicule that the reputation of the yellow coach might excite among their neighbors. If it pleased Aunt Ann to resurrect the coach and to let it, then it was Cinda's part to uphold her in this resolve; hence her little slushy ride to the postmaster.

The night of the party was cold, with deep layers of snow that had fallen two days before. The roads were rough, and sleighing was excellent, except the traveling for wheeled vehicles was hazardous.

A full moon was shining brightly as he pulled his horse to a standstill before the old colonial porch by two large white horses that Maggie's nephew had obtained from a local farmer for the purpose of giving himself a ride to the party.

Newton's head ached with the weight of the snow. He was a little pale, otherwise he was a bundle of rags and grease, topped by an ancient cloth cap, also a relic of the deceased warrior.

Maggie held a lamp aloft in the doorway as an excuse for seeing the ladies. "Cinda's clever fingers had made her very splendid indeed; Aunt Ann, usual in black velvet, with a small pink cape over all, and Cinda herself, like a rosebud, in one of Aunt Ann's lake organdie gowns. From head to foot she was ravished to an old lady's hawl, and only her bright head peeped up to occasionally survey her small white silver-lined feet.

The coach creaked testily down the driveway and nearly careened as Danny turned the horses into the road. "I reckon dis yer's ewine to be a ticklish ride," he muttered gloomily. "It was a runnin' down de bay a ew' win."

"I reckon I's give ter meash ole Mrs. Melvin 'n' Miss Cinda e'd I gits through wid dis yere job. Hiddap, yo' ole twin snails! Whoo, dah! Reckon yo' needn't hurry so fast, if, o's ewine lat dat!"

Just before they reached Deepford the catastrophe which Cinda had been fearing happened. All at once one of her rear wheels collapsed, letting the body of the heavy vehicle sag perilously at that corner. The horses considered about in the snow, pulled and fro' by the thoroughly frightened Simgy, while Aunt Ann took it into her head to jump down and bewail the illen stories of the house of Melvin's finds strove to reassure her.

The breakdown had occurred in front of Newton Ashford's house, and the young man ran out to render assistance. "I'm afraid you'll have to get out and use drive you to the party," he said in response to Cinda's low voiced explanation, "unless—if you will come to the house a few minutes while I use a couple of my own wheels, I will leave the body of your coach on runners, so you may get there after all."

"That will please me under any circumstances," said Aunt Ann with dignity, "if you will assist me to alight, sir. I'll wait until you make the change, and then for the snow—I have no shoes. Cinda, my dear, I hope you have at you on your rubber boots."

"I didn't, Aunt Ann," confessed Cinda. "I have nothing but these thin slippers on."

"Wait a moment, please," Newton asked toward the house, where he had a look advantage of his absence to cold her pretty niece at considerable length. When he returned Newton was waving a small pair of rubber boots.

"Perhaps they will fit," he suggested, giving them to Aunt Ann. "I think they are little boy's boots. I found them in the snow."

Aunt Ann pushed the boots over Cinda's white slippers, and they fitted exactly, and with Newton's help they went to his bachelor abode and awaited the changing of their coach to a sleigh.

This accomplished, they learned that Mr. Ashford was going to the party, and Aunt Ann invited him to ride with them, and during the remainder of the journey they became acquainted.

Aunt Ann discovered that her husband's stepmother had been her sister's Newton's great-grandfather, and that the kinship established the young man felt emboldened to tell of his finding the rubber boots in the snow. Then Cinda related with many apologies to Aunt Ann, who considered her exceedingly careless, how she had gone forth one same day to walk in the snow with her new boots on, how the coach's dog had chased her with leaping leaps until she had desperately withdrawn her new boots and thrown her at him.

Of course the Punderman's party ran a great success. It always is. The elbow coach had appeared a most luxurious equipage smothered in several fur Newton Ashford's buffalo robes, and Aunt Ann was assured that the ride of her house was still maintained. Cinda danced with Newton Ashford so many times that both Little River and Deepford nodded their heads and said it looked as if Cinda Melvin had found somebody to suit her.

It all turned out as such a romance and when there is a pumpkin sleigh coach drawn by two white animals, a fairy godmother (Aunt Ann didn't know it, but that's what she was) inside with the prettiest girl you ever saw, named Cinda, and a handsome prince, it is a sight to be seen out of footgear to be fitted and found perfect. Newton and Cinda were married, and the yellow coach with its red lining, and they were very happy indeed. Newton always calls her Cinderella. Some people don't understand why, but Cinda does, and so do Newton and Aunt Ann does too.

Appointed Secretary-Treasurer.

The taxes for the current year were struck at $80.00 per quarter-section or 31 cents per acre, resident ratepayers being permitted to work out $1.00.

On a motion it was agreed to purchase a grader, and the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to write for prices to place before the next meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Mr. Pardon's on Saturday, April 6th, 1912, at 1.30 p.m.

A LIFE WORK.

A fellow came to me one day—
He asked me to be his life work.
And got me in his hands, "say."
To buy a cyclopedic.

He left me twenty-seven books
That were most interesting.
I ardently did like them,
To cut a foolish caper.

He showed me how to get the best
By paying down a dollar
And then he said to me, "let Another dollar follow."

With that first dollar that I paid
I secured a life paper.
And my wife said she was afraid
To cut a foolish caper.

I reckon that Every knew,
An wimmin knows, by thunder,
It's value number fifty-two
That now I'm staggerin' under.

For every year he sends a book,
That cyclopedic seller.
It's twenty-five years since I took
That one from the seller.

"A natural supplement," it seems,
I signed to keep a-akin'.
And now I see it in my dreams
As well as when I'm wak'ing.

I guess when Gabriel blows his trumpet
To call me home or nearer,
He'll say to me, "Here, you old chum,
Is another cyclopedic."

Diplomas Awarded

The two diplomas for Grand Prix awarded by the Festival of Empire and Imperial Exhibition at London, England, 1911, to the Grand Trunk Railway System and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway for their exhibition building and general exhibits therein, were received at headquarters of these respective companies this week. The diplomas are handsomely engraved and printed on heavy parchment, and have been added to the large collection of awards that the Grand Trunk System have secured in recent years at all the big exhibitions that have been held to date throughout the world.

The Grand Trunk have decided to continue this exhibition at the Crystal Palace, London, this year from April 8th until October 31st, and preparations are in hand for the purpose of adding to and changing the general scheme of the interior decorations of the building that will make it even more attractive than it was during the Festival of Empire. Everyone who has seen the Grand Trunk pavilion at the Crystal Palace says that it is one of the best on the grounds, and the exhibit one of the finest and most attractive.

Edwell Union U.F.A. No. 53

This Local Union, which closed its roll for 1911 with a membership of 60 paid-up members, held its first meeting this year on January 24th last. There was not a very large attendance but it was very lively on. After preliminary business had been gone through and two new members elected, the meeting discussed various subjects, among others the question of the government granting loans to farmers for a term of years, at say, 1 per cent, as is done in Australia. This being moved by F. Ellis, seconded by F. Grange, and carried unanimously, the Secretary was instructed to forward the resolution to the Executive.

The President (Mr. T. J. Walton) addressed a few remarks on the subject of Direct Legislation, on which considerable discussion ensued and it was moved by G. Ferguson, seconded by W. Darling, that this Local Union is of opinion that the Initiative and Referendum is necessary to remedy some of the existing evils of present day politics, and this was carried unanimously.

The subject of "Single Tax" was next on the board, and the members were unanimously in favor of the principle of Single Tax.

F. Powell suggested that a Horticultural Show should be held during the year, and after some discussion it was decided to adjourn the matter until next meeting.

W. Gummow of Willowdale stated that he had a pure-bred Herford bull of good age, aged four years.

MISREPRESENTATION.

The gross misrepresentation of Mr. Michener's position on the question of natural resources, as copied from such an irresponsible paper as the News Telegram of Calgary, shows the utter disregard of the Advocate for fairness, and is another example of the unscrupulous manner in which it is ready to stoop to base tactics for party advantage. Surely the Advocate should at least make sure of Mr. Michener's position before blazoning abroad such an utter misstatement of facts.

Mr. Michener's position, as we understand it, is that Mr. Borden would not be justified in handing over the natural resources to Alberta until the people have had an opportunity to say they wanted them administered at Edmonton.

Furthermore, he claims the people should have an opportunity to say who they wanted to administer the lands; whether a party that has always stood for provincial ownership, that has always stood for the rights of Alberta, should administer them, or a party that in the beginning of provincial government set their birthright for a mess of pottage and who now are trying to save their face by a kind of death-bed repentance.

The Liberal party has always claimed we did not want our lands; but that the subsidy was quite compensation enough for their loss any way.

The Conservative party on the other hand claimed we were entitled to our lands and should have them.

The people returned the Liberal party by a large majority, and therefore the Conservative Government at Ottawa must conclude the people do not want the lands.

If the Liberal party think the land ought to be handed over to them let them appeal to the people and get their opinion on the matter.

This is the simple way out of it.

Dare Mr. Sifton take it up?

THE SQUARE DEAL

FOR THE WEST.

As leader of the Opposition Mr. Borden made an extremely favorable impression upon the people of the West by his straightforwardness. To all questions put to him he gave an equivalent answer. When the grain growers asked him what his stand was on the subject of reciprocity he told them he was absolutely opposed to it, and that he would not accept the Premiership on any understanding to the contrary. This did not win him votes in many sections of the West, but it extorted the respect even of those whom it most displeased. It led several bodies to put unquestioned faith in all his pledges.

As Prime Minister he is proceeding with at least due despatch to carry out these pledges, and is thereby earning golden opinions in the West and in all other parts of Canada. It is doubtful if any Cabinet in this country ever did more work in the same length of time than the Borden Government has done since it came into office, work for the most part in the way of carrying out of declarations of policy made in Opposition. The West was told that the tariff question would be deferred to a commission of competent and independent men. The scope and powers of that commission are already defined and its personnel well soon be announced. Mr. Borden promised that the Hudson Bay Railway would be constructed and operated by the Government, and no time is being lost in the fulfillment of this promise. The Grain Bill is now being proceeded with, and the taking over of the terminal elevators will be a matter for action in the early future. When the transportation of the last crop to market was found to be beyond the carrying capacity of the Canadian railways in the short season remaining after the delayed harvest, the Government at once took steps for the sending of grain out by way of United States lines. The unsatisfactory state of the transportation service was made the subject of enquiry by the Board of Railway Commissioners, who took action at the instance of the government. It is now proposed, in pursuance of Mr. Borden's views in Opposition, to strengthen the board by the appointment of two additional commissioners, and thus enable it to cope with the constantly increasing magnitude of the business coming before it.

The West can count on getting the square deal from Mr. Borden. As time passes, and opportunity is given for the carrying out of its progressive programme, the Borden Government will become more and more strongly entrenched in the confidence and regard of the people, and in no part of the country will it be more popular than in the Prairie Provinces.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

THE ABERDEENS ATTACKED.

Winston Churchill's Belfast speech on Home Rule, which is scheduled to take place to-morrow, had an astonishing prelude last week. Fifty thousand members of the Presbyterian church in Ireland, representing 162 congregations in all parts of the island, were concentrated in Belfast, to declare the determination of the Presbyterian church to resist Home Rule.

This vast multitude is distributed among 12 different gatherings in various buildings near the centre of the city.

A Presbyterian clergyman, referring to the supposed attitude of Lord and Lady Aberdeen, says: "This is not the time for honeyed words. I say the vice-regal influence has been used to foster the false impression that we Presbyterians have changed our views and to induce the church to go back on their allegiance to the crown. It is true several weak-minded men have succumbed to blandishments showered upon them, but these men represent nobody but themselves. I am sorry vice-regal influence was not used for a better purpose than to try to persuade Englishmen to forget the glorious heritage handed down to them by their forefathers. Thank God, however, constancy is still a virtue in Ireland."

Demonstration Farms

The Calgary Herald, in speaking of the Hudson Marshall's pet scheme, the Demonstration Farms, voices our sentiments when it says:

"The objection raised by the opposition in the provincial house to the extravagant expenditure of money on farms is a legitimate one. Without a doubt, as at present conducted, they do not realize the purposes for which they were established. The first principles of such an institution are that it should demonstrate to the inquiring agriculturist what he may aspire to in his own farm. It is only possible to do this by showing him something like what he deals with at home. If it would be no demonstration in the art of housekeeping to a citizen to invite him to the palace of a king, show him the latest ingenious devices for comfort, and then tell him to go home and do likewise. He might prefer to do so, but the circumstances are strictly against him. It would not help a homesteading newcomer from Central Europe any to invite him to see with the premier, and then tell him to go home and insist on culture in the bosom of his family. The contrast would be too abrupt; the man would suffer mental shipwreck. What is required of these farms if they are to be anything more than ornamental is that they shall tackle the problems of agriculture as they are tackled on the homestead, and prove that successful farming may be carried out without extravagance, and that outside the financial boundaries of the ordinary farmer. Farming in Alberta is not a branch of the household business; it must be conducted, in all weathers and under diverse conditions. On the other hand, these farms do not interest such agriculturists, say as the president of the United Farmers of the province, who has demonstrated from Dan to Beardsdale, and back again.

Paper Changes Hands

The Plaindealer Co., Ltd., Strathcona, changed its proprietorship and management on February 1st.

Hamilton McLeod, who for five years editor of the Plaindealer, has severed his connection with the newspaper business and is now engaged in the real estate business with J. W. Nightingale and H. D. Hubert under the name of J. H. McDonald & Co., with offices in the N.E. corner of the old Plaindealer building.

The Plaindealer will now be under the management of Rufus Williams, who has been in charge of the paper and the management has intentions of enlarging the paper at the local conditions and business warrant. In the meantime it will be continued as a semi-weekly publication. The management contemplates developing the publishing business and promoting especially the interest of the south side of Greater Edmonton.

The new editor announces no change politically in the policy of the paper and the management has intentions of enlarging the paper at the local conditions and business warrant.

In the meantime it will be continued as a semi-weekly publication. The management contemplates developing the publishing business and promoting especially the interest of the south side of Greater Edmonton.

Egress in Buildings

(Edmonton Bulletin.)

A bill has been presented to the legislative assembly to regulate the means of egress from public buildings. The bill has been presented by the attorney general, but has not yet been discussed by the assembly. The object is to have public buildings constructed in such a manner as to safeguard against fire and panic. The bill provides that all public buildings, halls, theatres or other buildings used for holding public meetings or for places of public resort or amusement, and in all school houses, buildings used for school purposes, which are more than one storey in height, all the outer doors and those leading from a subterranean hall or room or school rooms shall be so hinged that they may open freely outwards. It also provides that all the gates and other exits, if not so hinged, shall be kept open by proper fastenings, during the time such buildings are being used, to facilitate the egress of people in case of alarm from fire or other cause.

The penalty for violation of the act is set at not more than $500, while a fine of $5 will be added for every week after the date of conviction that the building does not conform to the provisions of the act.

Leslieville Literary Society

The Leslieville Literary Society held their monthly meeting in the school house on Friday last. The subject for debate was: "Is city life more conducive to health and happiness than country life?" Two papers were read on the subject, Mr. Popper reading the city side, and the Rev. R. G. Heaven the country. Then followed a lively and interesting discussion on the pros and cons in each case. Finally the question was decided in favor of city life.

Two amusing dialogues were given, one by Miss and Mr. F. Patterson, and the other by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Godkin. These were greatly enjoyed by those present.

The musical items of the evening were in the able hands of Miss Godkin.

After spending a most enjoyable time, the proceedings were brought to a close by refreshments. The next meeting will be held in the Leslieville school house on Friday, Feb. 23rd. All are invited to attend.

Winnipeg, Jan. 31.—As a result of the recent convention of dairymen, which they were held in the dried milk producers of the province are now being asked to submit statistics as to the cost of producing milk. This amount would be used to the cause of shortages which occur frequently. The information will be embodied in a report to be laid before an agricultural convention held during February. A movement is now on foot to affiliate all the milk producers of the province.

The Week in Edmonton

BY OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

The past week in the Legislature has been a busy one, and it is somewhat difficult to condense it and at the same time do justice to what has taken place. History is being made undoubtedly, and a resume of what the Legislature has done will provide the electors with abundant food for thought against the coming of a general election. Not even the most violent liberal partisan could affirm that the government's method of doing business has the merit of frankness. Information in every way necessary to the proper conduct of business and the intelligent discussion of various bills has been sought and put before the Legislature. The estimates passed last on Tuesday night, after nearly three days' consideration. No budget has ever been submitted to such intelligent and effective criticism as the budget of this session, and fair warning has been given in the process that, in view of the large covered items in the present session, had it not been for the mere physical limitations of seven men against thirty-three, the government could have put up indefinitely until the absolute refusal of the Prime Minister to give information had changed to a pleasant acquiescence in the demands of the opposition. The half dozen men of the same stamp would put the present government to the test.

The total amount voted in the estimates was $10,368,798.00. Of this, $1,000,000 was for the salaries of the members of the government, and the balance represents revenue.

Considerable discussion was provoked again as to the location of trunk roads, for which the sum of $1,200,000 is to be expended. To the effect that the government had no objection to the location of trunk roads as to where these were to be located, the Premier curtly replied, "Alberta," well knowing that his large majority would carry the amount if the roads were to be constructed in China. In fact, next to the splendid service rendered to the country by the location of trunk roads, the outstanding feature of the session, the remarkable thing about it is the purling and fawning following which the Premier, by some magic, has been able to secure among his own supporters. Several members of the government side have grown tired of the long run and are chafing at the delay. The bill provides for the construction of trunk roads within two years and completion in five. The temper of the day is such that the bill is being pushed through the Legislature. It is being pushed through the Legislature. It is being pushed through the Legislature.

A considerable debate developed when the private railway bill of the C.N.W.R. company was brought before the House. The bill provides for the construction of trunk roads within two years and completion in five. The temper of the day is such that the bill is being pushed through the Legislature. It is being pushed through the Legislature. It is being pushed through the Legislature.

One was that a minimum of 40 miles a year should be constructed. The other was that the company should be offered to build not less than 30 miles but the bill stood at 200, and so was passed by the House, the opposition voting against it. It will be noted that at this rate of construction, while the charter of the C.N.W.R. company cannot be built in less than 12 years, when the bill has been amended the opposition has carried out the lines would have been completed in less than six years. Another amendment offered by the opposition to the effect that if the railway company failed to carry out their agreements as to construction, the lines could be built by the government and completed. When the minimum of 200 miles a year was stated, it was noticed that a good many members on the government side were designedly absent from the House.

There was a dramatic moment when the leader of the opposition asked the Premier to state if it was the Government's intention to guarantee the bonds of the C.N.W.R. company. To this the Premier replied that the Government's intention would be apparent when they saw the Government's action on the matter. The Premier refused to give the opposition and the members of the House this information, and the Premier, with his feet in another chair and puffing at a good Havana, curtly replied "Absolutely."

It is plain from this refusal that this private bill is the government's railway policy, and that the eight given as the government's policy early in the session are included in this bill and are to be guaranteed. At the same time this company holds Dominion charters covering the same charters exactly. If the Premier took this railway policy into his good he ought to appeal to the country, and give the people a chance to say what they think of it. It is a safe prediction that it would not secure him many votes.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway recently placed a contract for the construction of twenty-five locomotives with the Canadian Locomotive Co., Kingston. These locomotives are of simple consolidation type, with Schenck water-tube boilers 23 inches in diameter by 30 inches stroke with 13 inch driving wheels. Boiler pressure of 580 lbs. The tenders of these engines will be water bottom type carrying 8000 gallons of water and about 15 tons of coal. The tractive power of the engines is 25,000 lbs. The delivery is expected about May, 1912.

At the Provincial Convention, held in Calgary in October, the following resolutions were passed:

(1) That, as an organization, we urge that men and women everywhere practice and encourage total abstinence, and in view of the fact that the liquor traffic is morally wrong, we stand for entire prohibition of the manufacture and importation of the same.

(2) That we again ask the department of education of both our provinces to authorize, as soon as possible a text book on physiology in the public schools, and we would recommend the Glucose series, and that an examination test be given in this as a part of the school study. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the department of education in each province.

What temperance brings—
More of good than we can tell;
More to buy with money to sell.
More of comfort, less of care;
More to eat, and more to wear.
All our burdens rendered lighter,
Conscience clear and minds much stronger;
Jebs must shut out, purses longer,
Fishes that drive away all sorrow,
And something laid up for to-morrow.

There will be a sale of home-made cooking ware, ten cent tea, and other goods, at the home of Mrs. G. H. Harvey, Saturday, Feb. 10th, from 3 to 6.

Our Loyal Temperance Legion was established in Feb. 1911, by Mrs. Iyslop, Mrs. King was appointed superintendent and we began with an initial membership of fifteen members. Our first work was to run one of the largest in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. There are sixty attending members enrolled.

Temperance is a noble cause, to realize that the surest way of overcoming the evils of intemperance is by beginning with the children, and by giving them such course of instruction as will enable them to see the evil effects of alcohol and tobacco on the system. This work is taken up in a series of graded lessons, and is frequently reviewed to refresh the facts on the memory. Officers, consisting of President, Vice-President, Secretary, organist and librarian, are elected from the children by themselves.

We have a salute, motto, emblem, song, a rallying call, and a pledge. Every member of our L.T.L. has taken the triple pledge, by which he pledges himself to abstain from alcohol and tobacco in any form, and from all profanity. Individual music and singing lessons, as well as French, will also be given by Miss Dolman during her spare hours. Hours from 10 to 12 and 2 to 4. Room 11, or address, Box 394, Red Deer.

Report received at the Grand Trunk Pacific headquarters regarding track laying on the new line in Western Canada up to December 19th shows progress made. On the main line the end of track has now reached 102.5 miles west of Winnipeg, or 28 miles west of British Columbia boundaries. On the Alberta Coal Branch, which is being built from Bickerdike into the Brazeau fields, the track has reached mile 30 south of Bickerdike. On the Toileld-Coal Branch the steel has been laid 105.3 miles south of Toileld.

On the Young-Prince Albert branch the end of track is at mile 67.3 north of Young. The Moose River branch, which is being built from Regina and Moose Jaw track has been laid 1.1 miles west of Regina. Track laying is still proceeding rapidly on the main line of British Columbia and on the Alberta Coal Branch. On the Mountain Division steel has been laid to the mouth of the river at mile 104 east of Prince Rupert.

POOL ROOM TO KEEP OPEN TILL MIDNIGHT

Keen Debate on the New Bill in the Legislature

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 2.—Practically all of today's session of the legislature was taken up in consideration in committee of the whole of acts regulating pool rooms and theatres.

Personal confessions were indulged in by some members during discussion in committee on act to regulate pool rooms. It is framed to prevent gambling, gaming, wagering, or betting of any kind, or throwing dice in or upon any premises used as a pool room, or posting up in such places of any bet. It also prohibits swearing in pool rooms and states that no drunken person shall be allowed in them.

WILL ALLOW TO CLUBS.
By an amendment to the act made by the committee, the bill will also apply to private clubs and to billiard rooms in Young Men's Christian associations or kindred institutions. Its application to clubs may again be changed however, before it is finally passed.

The first objection to the bill was raised by Bramley Moore, who said he did not see why a man should not be allowed to make a bet on his skill at a little game of billiards.

Mr. Mitchell, attorney-general, said the bill was based on information which had come to the department from time to time, and was the result of the experience of those who had to deal with such matters. More complaints had reached the department in respect to pool rooms than in regard to any other class of amusement or business carried on in the province, and it had been decided that some regulations must be imposed. One of the chief causes of complaint was that there was a great deal of gambling carried on (hear, hear).

Mr. Riley contended that the bill does not disable a man from making a bet, only he must not make it on the premises of the pool room.

Bramley Moore explained that he was not a frequenter of pool rooms, but it seemed to him that while bets might be made in the house of private people who had billiard tables, they prevented the ordinary man from doing the same thing. The clause prohibiting gambling was passed.

AGE LIMIT IMPOSED.
The next clause prevented the use of pool rooms by persons under 17, and was also opposed. Hon. C. R. Mitchell said complaints were chiefly made by fathers and mothers, and the situation was serious throughout the province.

O'Brien asserted that the bill was designed to prevent the ordinary man imitating the millionaire and those who lived in high places. When boys were allowed to work at the age of fourteen, it was a hardship to prevent them taking part in these amusements till they were seventeen.

Bramley Moore said: "Other sections of this act are going to make these places fit for young ladies, why stop it for young men going to these admirable places?"

He moved that the clause be eliminated. Mr. O'Brien seconded.

The motion was lost, only six, P. Gunn, A. Bramley Moore, J. K. Cornwall, Dr. Stewart, T. M. Tweedie and C. M. O'Brien voting in favor.

OPPOSE EARLY CLOSING.
Opposition was successfully offered to the compulsory closing of pool rooms at eleven o'clock on week days other than Saturdays.

Bramley Moore said the clause reminded him of what he saw in England, where the squire objected to dances for the village people because he considered they could not work so well the following morning.

"If a man wants to sleep late in the morning, I have a habit of that myself, why should he not stop up at night?"

Arrangements are being made by the Salvation Army Immigration Department to bring a large number of immigrants to this province during the present season to engage in farm work and domestic service.

These people will all come from Great Britain and a large number from the rural districts and accustomed to work on the land.

The people who come under the auspices of the Army are of a very desirable class and of good reputation, being selected by experienced agents, who are familiar with the class of work in Canadian farming conditions call for.

As it is more than likely that there will be an extra demand for farm help this spring, farmers who desire to secure farm hands, married or single, experienced or inexperienced, for this season's work, should at once get in touch with the Army. Write for applications to the Salvation Army Immigration Department, 221 Rupert St., Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Race and Creed in Quebec

(Toronto News).

The Liberal Government of Quebec Province will shortly go to the constituencies, and according to the Quebec Chronicle it will appeal to racial and religious hatred. It is said that Hon. Charles Devlin, a member of that Government, in the late Federal election campaigned for Laurier with "no English Protestants" as his slogan.

Mr. Devlin spoke in the Legislature the other day, and in reporting the utterance, Le Soleil, the Gouin Government organ, said—"The Minister of Colonization raised a veritable tempest of applause when he cried out: 'It will not be the Orangemen of Toronto who will settle the question of this time, but the electors of Quebec. It will be neither the Ne Temere decree nor the nationality of Sir Wilfrid that will be discussed. It is not the voice of Toronto that will speak, but the voice of Quebec.'"

"To be sure," comments The Chronicle, "when Sir Wilfrid, the 'great unifier of the races,' save the mark, has given his bid, his heebie-meebees must follow. The vicious art of making racial and sectarian appeals is Sir Wilfrid's forte. It was his trump card in 1896, and it sustains him in office for fifteen years."

Now he would galvanize it afresh with his mistaken notion that the country, as a whole, will stand for this kind of thing again. Ever since the bitterness of the September election, he has never missed a single opportunity of raising race and creed cries.

He pursued that vicious course at the opening of the Parliamentary session by his speech on the question of the Speaker'ship. He continued in the same strain throughout the session, and his conduct at Montreal recently was no exception to the general rule. "Was there a single Government member of the Provincial House, from the Premier downwards, who took the bustings but he did not ask the people of Quebec to vote against Borden because he was an English Protestant? Was there one of them that did not try to set Catholics against Orangemen?" While certain Liberal newspapers in this province accuse the Borden Government of having attained power by class and creed cries, it is well that the Ontario public should understand what the Liberals of Quebec are doing.

The people of this Province should know that the Liberal party leaders beyond the Ottawa River have to retain office by deepening the Orange men of Ontario and the Protestants of Toronto.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 30.—Winnipeg bank clearings for the month shows an increase of thirty-five million dollars over the previous year. The figures for January for the past three years are as follows: 1910, $8,700,144; 1911, $7,619,597; 1912, $110,993,506.

Rounded Up His Neighbor's Cattle

(Toronto News).

Man Near Settler Charged With Stealing Twenty-five Head

Stettler, Jan. 31.—J. Hartnow, living fifteen miles south of here, near Lake Louise, was arrested by Sergeant McBrayne of the R.N.W.M.P. on the charge of stealing twenty-five head of cattle from E. E. Auger, a rancher southeast of here. Formal charge was laid before Justice W. B. Gray yesterday, and the accused was remanded to Fort Saskatchewan for eight days to await preliminary hearing. It is believed that others are connected with the crime, and Constable Wheatley of Edmonton has been sent here to assist the local force in making further investigations.

According to rumors it was a daring steal, the accused having engaged a man to assist him, and rounded the cattle up in another man's pasture and sold them for the sum of $720. The cattle in question are claimed to be plainly branded with Auger's brand. Another well known man in the district is supposed to be connected with the crime and it is expected that a charge will be laid in a short time.

North Red Deer School Opening
North Red Deer School was publicly opened on Wednesday evening last by a concert given by local performers. The building is a two-story frame cottage school with concrete basement and furnace. It is wired for electricity and will have other modern conveniences. At present only the lower room of the building is in use, but it is expected that the whole of the building will soon be in use also.

Before the concert commenced the building was full to overflowing. Chairman Simpson and Trustees Gaetz and Payne were present, as well as the North Red Deer city fathers. Mr. Simpson acted as chairman, and gave a short address in which he explained why the school was built, and he expected it would soon have to be enlarged. He congratulated the people of North Red Deer on their prospects. He then called on the Hungarian Band from the Red Deer High School, and they gave an exhibition of skillful rendering of music which has seldom been equalled in the district, or in fact in the province. The band consists of some eight or nine instruments and is all that the name implies. W. Campbell and P. Kent were then called on for a duet, which they brought off in their usual clever style. Mr. MacKewraith was then called on for a song, and he came forward with a Scotch production which highly pleased the audience. Trustee H. I. Gaetz then made a few remarks, stating that he was glad to meet the citizens of North Red Deer, and a funny story showed how we were holding our own, though by his other remarks it would seem that we were losing ground. Mr. Campbell then sang another song, showing how we were all prone to see, as we are only poor weak mortals after all. O. Chalmers, who took the fancy of the audience that he had to sing another. Principal McKenzie was then asked for a few remarks, and he replied by cracking up the state of our schools and the ability of our scholars. He thought that the scholars got along better without too many appliances in the school, as they had to use their own brains a little more. He would like to see a course in domestic science started, Messrs. Campbell and Kent then gave another duet, after which W. E. Payne made a few remarks. He said that the Red Deer girls were the most womanly and beautiful girls to be found, and that the boys were the manliest and cleverest of boys. He said we paid attention to the physical culture of the children as well as to the culture of their mind. He hoped North Red Deer would soon be getting the majority of the medals put up for competition in the High School. The next item was a duet by Misses Widen and Sexsmith, which was one of the best things of the evening. Mr. MacKewraith again favored the audience, singing about the hundred pipes, which was heartily applauded. P. Kent followed with a solo and, to add the evening, Mayor Webb, of North Red Deer, was called upon to make a few remarks. He said that he had never spoken at a public meeting before, but would do his best nevertheless, and concluded a short but eloquent address with the statement that the School Board were ready to put on higher grades at the school when it could be shown that such was necessary. The gathering dispersed after singing "God Save the King."

VICTORIA LOOKS GOOD

(By A. P. Garvey)

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 1.—Victoria looks like the best bet for the Pacific coast hockey title, although New Westminster will be a serious contender, with Vancouver running a good third. But right now the capital city puck chasers, one of the best balanced teams ever assembled, are putting up a fight that promises to land the championship and give them the right to challenge for the Stanley cup, emblematic of the world's professional hockey championship. In the matches played to date in the coast series the Capitals have always had a shade the better of the other teams, but on two occasions New Westminster succeeded in nosing them out with whirlwind finishes, in which one player, Eric Johnson, the crack defence man of the Royals, proved the determining factor. In the match this week the Victoria players clearly demonstrated their superiority over the Royals and there doesn't appear to be a chance for any other team to head them off for the coast title though Vancouver trimmed them on Friday.

HOCKEY MADE A HIT.
Hockey has made a hit here and with a little of the lacrosse spirit injected into their play in recent matches, the players have been serving up some great exhibitions that are bringing out the crowds and swelling the receipts. Another year hockey will be as popular as lacrosse with the sporting fraternity on the Pacific coast. The amateur game is booming here and in Victoria, while curling is another sport that is gaining in popularity, and already there is talk of holding a big 'spiel here early in March. It is expected that rinks from as far east as Winnipeg will come here for the bonspiel.

Officials of the Pacific Coast hockey association expect to have four clubs on the coast next season. The announcement is made that Seattle promoters are planning the erection of a $200,000 artificial rink in the American city and it will be opened early in the fall. A team will be organized and entered in the F.C.H.A. next season, while Edmonton and Calgary hockey lists are anxious to get franchises in the coast league next season. However, if Seattle organizes a club it is not likely that the Alberta cities will be represented, the competition being confined to coast cities. New Westminster will have its own rink next season, and it is altogether likely that Jimmy Gardner will have complete charge of the plant in the Royal City.

CHALLENGE FOR STANLEY CUP.
The coast champions will have a challenge in for the Stanley Cup early in March and the trip will cost off according to schedule. It will not be any all-star aggregation, selected from the three coast teams, but the winning team in the series, and Victoria will probably be the team to go. Lester Patrick's players are performing better every time out and they will make a bid for the cup. The team will be held intact and the Island City enthusiasts are sure to send the champions east to bring the trophy west. The coast league's season will not close until March 15th, but the results of the championship fight should be known before that time, and it is just possible that arrangements will be made to send the champions east a couple of weeks earlier than at first planned. This would enable them to play the cup holders about the first week in March instead of the end of the month. The N.H.A. schedule will close on March 2nd.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN STRIKE SITUATION.

(By A. P. Garvey)

The strike record of the Labor Department shows that there were only eight trade disputes in existence during December, being six less than in November, and two less than in December, 1910. About ten firms and slightly over fourteen hundred employees were involved. The loss in working days amounted approximately to forty thousand. The new disputes of the month were of only slight importance. There were four disputes unsettled at the close of the year.

Coppers were seen grazing on the prairies at the Indian Industrial School last week. How is that for Alberta?

Nervous Prostration

Indigestion Causes It—Mi-na Will Cure It.

If you have indigestion, you don't get all the nutriment out of your food that you should. Your worn out stomach passes the food on without extracting enough nutritious substance to supply the blood and nerves.

And if the nerves are not supplied with nutriment, they begin to rebel. They kick up a great disturbance. They make you irritable and cranky, you worry about trifles, and you cannot sleep soundly at night, you have bad dreams, and you get up tired in the morning.

Try Mi-na tablets, the money back cure. Mi-na will cure your nervousness by driving out the cause. Mi-na will give you relief the first hour. It will cure acute cases in a few days, and chronic cases in a few weeks.

Belching of gas, heartburn, sour taste of food, waterbrash, foul breath and other dyspeptic symptoms vanish before the mighty power of Mi-na. Try Mi-na. Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co. sell it and will refund your money if it doesn't cure, and only 50 cents a large box.

REAL ESTATE "AGENCY SERVICE"

We conceive the Real Estate Agent's functions to be of service. Service to the two interests that command him—the owner, who wants to find the one buyer to whom the property is most valuable, and the buyer to whom "service" means finding and securing for him the ONE piece of property that is better for his purpose than ANY OTHER in the town.

We want to serve every buyer, every seller—we're in the Real Estate business to succeed ANEW in our service to each new client.

List your property with us. We have buyers awaiting the right properties.

Admission 50 cents.

Harry Moore, of Sydney, Nova Scotia, brother of Mrs. Pearson, Red Deer, received the Carnegie medal for merit for 1911, being the only Canadian to receive it last year. He also received $2000 to be devoted to educating his family.

Mr. Moore saved a lad from drowning by jumping into the water and holding him up until help arrived, as neither of them could get out of the water owing to this ice. He also received a medal from the Royal Humane Society for the same noble act.

GRAIN ELEVATORS WILL BE ERECTED ON PACIFIC COAST.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—The deputation of western grain growers who are in the city, took up on Saturday the question of the establishment of elevators at Vancouver to handle the west bound trade and the cabinet is favorably disposed to the proposal.

It was suggested that the government at first build one elevator to hold a quarter million bushels, the initial cost to be $125,000, with other units or new elevators to be added as needed. It was pointed out by the grain growers that at present there is not a solitary elevator at Vancouver and the only way wheat can be shipped is by sack, which adds six cents a bushel to the cost. If there were elevators at Vancouver, it is claimed, a large amount of this year's grain could be shipped west.

"Our Boys," at the Lyric, Feb. 19th and 20th.

You'll like Red Deer West. Look out for the Carnival on Feb. 22nd.

Curling Notes

The standing in the Brumpton Cup contest is growing exciting. The following is the standing of the rinks up to Tuesday morning:

GROUP A.

	Won	Lost
Brown	5	3
Carvallen	6	4
Hanna	3	3
H. L. Gaetz	5	3
A. T. Stephenson	5	2
Clarke	5	3
Landon	3	3
Galbraith	1	7
Payne	4	4
Moore	4	4
Pidgeon	7	3
W. J. Stephenson	6	3

GROUP B.

	Won	Lost
Gibson	7	4
Carvallen	2	2
A. T. Gaetz	2	2
Hunter	2	2
Wolliver	4	5
Lindsay	6	2
Mann	5	3
Pearson	1	6
Wallace	1	5
Lees	1	4
Campbell	1	5

Hugh Clarke, skip, is attending the bonspiel at Edmonton. His rink consists of Hutton, lead, Hacking second, and W. J. Stephenson, vice skip. We hope they bring home some silverware.

Two rinks, consisting of Murphy, Munro, Carvallen and T. A. Gaetz, skip, and Jas. Malcolm, Stone, Galbraith and Wallace, skip, attended the Incefall bonspiel last week. The ice was very soft and Mr. Gaetz' rink was easily out of the contest.

But Mr. Wallace's rink won many games, and were in the semifinals in the Grand Challenge. They are still in the running for the Grand Aggregate, and will have to go to Edmonton to play off for this competition.

Preparations are being made for a big time during the Festival at Red Deer, Feb. 13, 14 and 15. A large number of rinks have promised to attend from north, south and the Lacombe branch, and everything points to a most successful 'spiel if the weather holds good. Monday evening there will be a reception given to attending visitors in the Lyric, and play starts 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. There is a larger list of valuable prizes offered, and the merchants and business men have liberally donated towards the events. We understand the Hospital Ladies' Aid will offer refreshments during the bonspiel.

THE LADY CURLERS.

There was great excitement yesterday afternoon at the rink, as the lady curlers were playing their games for the rinks donated by Judge Lees.

Mrs. J. C. Moore drew the bye, Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Lord played a very close game, finishing six each at the eighth end. They had to play an other end, when Mrs. Lord won out by one point. Mr. Lord and Mrs. Moore then played for the final in a hotly contested game, Mrs. Moore's rink winning out by one point in the eighth end, the score standing, Mrs. Lord 6, Mrs. Moore 7. Mrs. Moore's rink will now have to play each other a point game to see who gets the stones.

THE man with a good Knife knows that every time he uses it—and there are many every day—it is a source of satisfaction

HOW many times does somebody ask you to borrow your knife? Again there is a feeling of satisfaction in having a good one.

A Good Knife is as convenient and as necessary as a good watch, and there is fully as much satisfaction in carrying one. You wouldn't carry a cheap, unreliable watch if you could get a good one for the same money or even for a few cents more.

BUY your knife on the same basis and you will buy it from us.
